BROOKLYN'S FATAL FIRE

It Results in the Death of a Whole Family of Six Persons.

DETROIT'S EXPLOSION HORROR.

Thus Far Over Thirty Bodies Have Been Recovered, and the Total Loss of Life Will Exceed Forty—An Engineer's Carelessness Caused the Disaster.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 8.—Six members of one family perished by fire in their home on the top floor of the four story tenement house at 311 Van Brunt street, at 1 o'clock in the morning. The names of the dead are: Charles Ryan, his wife, Ellen, and their daughters Johanna, 20 years old; Sarah, 17; Margaret, 14, and Lizzie, 12. The fire started from a gas jet in a hall on the ground floor.

It burned out Finnegan's saloon on the ground floor and roasted Margaret Welsh and her four children on the second floor. The stairways being on fire, they went to the windows, from which they were rescued by policemen. The fire quickly got to the third floor, which was unoccupied.

After the flames had been extinguished a search of the building was made and on the top floor were found the charred bodies of the Ryans. Their positions showed plainly how they had struggled for their lives. Johanna and Sarah were found in the rear room near the staircase. Their bodies were lying together. Margie's body was found lying within a few feet of the window on the King street side of the house. The others, Ryan, his wife and Lizzie, the youngest girl, were found in the front room. Ryan had stopped to slip on his trousers. The others were in their night gowns.

None of the dead bodies were even scorched by the flames. Each member of the family had met death by suffocation. The property damage was $5,000.

THE DETROIT HORROR GROWS.

Thirty Bodies Recovered, and the Dead's List Will Exceed Forty.

DETROIT, Nov. 8.—The work of recovering bodies of the victims of Wednesday's explosion in The Journal building went on all day yesterday and last night. The list of missing crosses short correspondingly with the number of dead bodies taken out. Over thirty dead bodies have now been recovered and identified, but the number changes frequently on account of new and ghastly discoveries brought to light in the ruins. The number of dead will approximate forty.

Yesterday's developments demonstrate conclusively that negligent care of the boilers was the cause of the disaster. Official inspectors and competent engineers examined portions of the wrecked boilers, and pronounced the cause as low water, causing a superheated condition of the flues, which was followed by the dangerous injection of cold water. Engineer Thompson's carelessness is strongly condemned. The engineer of The Free Press states that he had previously warned Thompson against leaving his boilers without having any assistant to watch them. Some occupants of the building give similar testimony. Thompson insists that he saw both boilers ten minutes before the explosion, and that they contained plenty of water and sixty-five pounds pressure of steam.

The portion of the building still standing was officially examined and found to be out of plumb, wrenched by the shock and otherwise defective. It will doubtless be condemned.

In addition to the list of names published yesterday the following bodies have been recovered: George J. Hiller, proprietor of Hiller's bindery, and these employes of Mr. Hiller: Adolph Schrieber, Jr., Kittie Leonard, Rosa Morgan, Jennie Nebauer, Bertha Waldbusch, Emma Litchenberg, Rosa Bretz, Catherine Hiller, Louise Fretz and Anna Wiedbusch; John Gordon, electrotyper; John F. Derby and Joseph Bradley, carpenters; John Brietenbecher.

After Pitzel's Estate.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 8.—Q. T. Moreland filed application for letters of administration on the estate of Burton T. Lyman, or B. F. Pitzel, as was his real name, for the benefit of his creditors. This is the man for whose murder Holmes has just been convicted in Philadelphia. Recently Attorney Hudson filed application for letters of administration on the estate of Minnie Williams deceased. She was the owner of the property that was deeded to Lyman by alleged fraudulent deeds and one of the many persons Holmes is accused of murdering.

Alleged "Indignities" Disproved.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Senor Romero, the Mexican minister here, formally denies the accuracy of a published report coming from Texas to the effect that John H. Manley, engineer of the Mexican International railway, and other Americans were arrested by the Mexican authorities and taken to Monterey in irons, and afterwards compelled to work in certain alleged criminal society on the walls distant from that city. The minister produces proof that there is not a shadow of foundation for the story.

A Boy Murdered by Burglars.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 8.—Mona McDonald, the 15-year-old son of P. D. McDonald, proprietor of the Oxford (Ky.) Register, was murdered in this city by one of three burglars whom he surprised while they were attempting to rob the house of his grandfather, 2125 Wentworth avenue, where young McDonald was visiting. The boy entered the house alone last night and found the burglars at work. One of them shot him as soon as he stepped inside. He lived only a few minutes. All of the men escaped.

A Mammoth Money Order Business.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The money order department of the Chicago postoffice yesterday paid out more money in cashing money orders than ever before was paid out by any similar office on any one day, the total payments for the day aggregating over $105,000. This is the first time in the history of the money order department that the daily payments at one office have reached a sum over $100,000. In addition to the $105,000, which represents the amount that went through the clearing house, there was about $15,000 paid out by the clerks at the window in the postoffice building.

Another "Illegal Law."

TRENTON, Nov. 8.—The supreme court yesterday declared invalid the hotel license granted by the Warren county court to one Hoover, in Washington borough, and in so doing decided that the legislative act of 1892, which gave courts of common pleas in certain boroughs concurrent power with the common councils of such boroughs to grant licenses, is unconstitutional. Some seven or eight boroughs in the state are affected by the decision. This act of 1892 is the one Senators Bradley and Rogers tried to have repealed by the legislature last winter.

How Pennsylvania Was Swindled.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 8.—John Hime, representative of the New York firm which furnished the metallic furniture this summer to the departments on Capitol Hill, was held in $500 bail last night on a charge of conspiracy. Evidence was produced showing that $6,000 had been divided among agents of several metallic furniture companies in the interest of the successful bidder, and that the state had paid about $30,000 for metallic cases which could have been supplied at a reasonable profit for $20,000.

GAUDAUR THE CHAMPION.

But England Defeated America in the Four-Oared Rowing Race.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 8.—Jake Gaudaur, of Canada, is still champion of the aquatic world. The contest was over a three mile course, and the trophies were the championship Richard K. Fox challenge cup and a purse of $1,000. The starters were Bubear and Haines of England, and Jake Gaudaur and Ras Rogers of America. Gaudaur won with five boat lengths lead; time, 20.59.

The great four oared race followed the single scull race. This was over a mile and a half course, with turn, three miles in all, for the championship of the world and a purse of $1,500. The starters were: Bubear, Barry, Haines and Wingate for England, and Toomer, Rogers, Charley Gaudaur and Jake Gaudaur for America.

The English crew gained the lead in the first ten boat lengths and kept it on up the course by about three boat lengths, though the American crew closed the gap some when near the mile and a half flag. The English team turned first, and on the return course, at the three-quarters flag, they were leading by five boat lengths. The Americans spurted at the half flags for about five lengths only when they gave out. From there to the finish line the English crew had three lengths lead, and the two boats passed over the line in that position. Time of race, 17.20¾.

A COMBINATION OF RAILROADS

To Defeat the A. R. U. Strike on the Great Northern Road.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—All railroads have positively assured President Hill, of the Great Northern, that as far as lies in their power they will co-operate with him in defeating the American Railway union strike now threatened upon his road. This information comes from officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, the Burlington, the Illinois Central and the Chicago and Eastern Illinois systems. This support of the Great Northern is an outgrowth of the plan pursued by the general managers of the different railroads of Chicago when they were dealing with the strike of last year.

Mr. Hill has engaged a detective agency to furnish him armed guards, and advised the Chicago railroad managers that his road would employ any railroad man out of work who had not committed an act of violence in Chicago or elsewhere during the strike of 1894.

There are some 2,000 of these men in Chicago at the present time whose names were on the pay rolls of the railroads up to July 1, 1894. They include engineers, firemen, brakemen and flagmen. While they have been "blacklisted" for nearly eighteen months, no charge has rested against them, but of having simply quit work when the strike began. These men are being engaged and furnished transportation to St. Paul.

A Veteran Murdered and Robbed.

LURAY, Va., Nov. 8.—Mr. Willis D. Kibler, 71 years old, was murdered and robbed at his home, about five miles from this place, by an unknown assassin. Mr. Kibler's household consisted of himself and an 18-year-old nephew. The latter was plowing some distance from the house, when suddenly two reports of a gun was heard. Hurrying to the house he found his uncle, with his pockets rifled. He had been shot in the left side of the face, the load ranging upward and entering the brain. The back part of the head was crushed in with a blunt instrument, probably an ax, and the victim's throat was cut, the windpipe being severed. The deceased was a Confederate veteran, and generally respected.

A Treacherous Duelist.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Last night Salvators Morelo and Frank Foretta, both barbers, went to Jersey City to fight a duel. The two men were in love with the same woman, and intended to fight it out. When they left this city it was their intention to fight with bare fists. But when the place of meeting was reached Foretta drew a revolver and fired three shots at Morelo. Two of the bullets took effect in Morelo's abdomen and the third in the groin. The wounded man was taken to the city hospital in a dying condition, while Floretta fled to this city, where he was arrested.

Cheap Labor from the Northwest.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 8.—A hundred and fifty operatives from Michigan and Wisconsin have arrived at Olneyville to take the places of strikers dropped in the Atlantic mills. The new arrivals are camped in the big corporation building and fed by a public caterer. All are green hands, and have been distributed through the mills for instruction by the old hands. There is great discontent among the latter, as they believe this movement is a attempt to introduce cheap foreign labor.

French Embezzler Must Go Back.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The president has issued a warrant for the surrender to the French authorities of Joseph Mangaria, who was held by a United States commissioner in New York for embezzlement of railroad funds in France.

NEW TURKISH MINISTRY

The Sultan Reorganizes His Corps of Advisers.

"THOSE TURBULENT ARMENIANS."

A Telegram from the Porte to the Powers in Which the Wily Turks Claim That the Armenians Are Responsible for All Recent Disorders.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 8.—A new Turkish ministry has been formed, as follows: Hali Rifat Pasha, grand vizier; Said Pasha, president of the council of state; Tewfix Pasha, minister of foreign affairs; Hassan Pasha, minister of marine; Riza Pasha, minister of war; Memduh Pasha, minister of the interior; Abdur Rahmar Pasha, minister of justice; Sabri Pasha, minister of finance; Arifi Pasha, minister without portfolio.

Kiamil Pasha, the retiring grand vizier, has been appointed vali of Aleppo.

Riza Pasha was minister of war in the last cabinet; Hassan Pasha was minister of marine in the late ministry; Hali Rifat Pasha is the ex-minister of the interior, and Tewfik Pasha has just come here from Berlin, where he was Turkish ambassador to Germany. Finally, Said Pasha was minister of foreign affairs in the late cabinet and previously grand vizier.

Hali Rifat Pasha, the new grand vizier of Turkey, has the reputation of being an able administrator. He has held numerous high posts and is a man of broad views, judged from a Turkish standpoint.

The new grand vizier is expected to have a moderating influence between the Mussulmans and the Christians, but it is not thought that he will be able to do anything of a remarkable nature at the present serious juncture of affairs in the Turkish empire.

It is believed that the changes in the Turkish ministry are intended to appease Mahomedan disaffection, and are not a demonstration against England, although Kiamil Pasha, the outgoing grand vizier, was the most pro-English of the pashas.

In an interview Said Pasha said he could not claim that the Turkish administration was not snow white, but it was certainly not as black as it was painted. The ministers, he said, were working hard to carry out the scheme of reforms, and counted upon England's generosity not to increase the difficulties by encouraging the revolutionary Armenians, who, instead of being grateful for the concessions that had been made, were in open revolt throughout Asia.

The sublime porte has sent the following telegram to the powers:

"All news concerning plots, threatening letters and a supposed dissatisfaction in the ranks of the army and navy is intentionally propagated by well known newspaper correspondents, affiliated with the Armenian committee, to alarm public opinion. As for the often repeated assertion of the intended extermination of the Armenians, it is too absurd to be contradicted. The efforts of the imperial government, on the contrary, to quell the revolt of the Armenians and to resist their criminal and bloody agitation.

"The Armenian agitation at Diarbekir was on the point of subsiding when the Armenians began again their attacks upon the Mussulmans by throwing bombs at them, and by firing at the muezzins when the latter were calling the faithful to prayers. During the affray fifty Mussulmans and ninety Armenians were killed and wounded.

"Armenian rioters attacked the patrols at Sivrik, killing a few Mussulmans and setting fire to the bazaar. Two hundred Armenian revolutionists having at their head Kevrok, chief of the parish of Ferus (Marash), attacked the village of Tchoukour Hissar and killed twelve Mussulmans. Some of the agitators were arrested, including part of the Armenian brigands who captured Hadji Hassan Oglous Hasni.

"All news published as to the occurrence of trouble at Adana, Tarsus and Mersine, is absolutely without foundation."

Armenians Have Acted Hastily.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The Daily News Constantinople correspondent, whose sympathies lean toward the Armenian side, admits that the Moslem attacks have aroused such a spirit of opposition and despair among the Armenians that instead of allowing themselves to be killed quietly, as at Trebizond and Akhissar, the Armenians themselves commenced the attack at Zeitoun, Erzeroum and elsewhere, besides making ill advised and mischievous demonstrations in Constantinople. "It will take years," this correspondent continues, "to revive confidence and trade and commerce lost through the present condition of anarchy, due to the deplorable weakness and inaction of the government."

The Sultan Looking to His Own Safety.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The Berlin correspondent of The Times says of Tewfik Pasha the new Turkish minister of foreign affairs: "While here Tewnk displayed no qualities fitting him to be a good foreign minister. He has won the sultan's confidence by the timely detection of palace plots, and he is likely to be a docile palace instrument. It looks, therefore, as if the sultan were thinking more of his own safety than of the gravity of the political situation."

Polish Recruits for Cuba.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 8.—The Poles of this city have started a movement looking toward the sending of about 300 recruits to join the Cuban army. The force will be composed entirely of Poles, mostly from Cleveland, Chicago and Buffalo. A meeting will be held here Nov. 14, when it is proposed to formulate plans for getting the men to Cuba.

Republican Pluralities Growing.

Latest returns from several states show increased Republican pluralities, as follows. Kentucky, 17,000; Ohio, 95,348; Utah, 2,300; New York, 91,000; Iowa, 70,000; Kansas, 75,000.

REAR ADMIRAL SHUFELDT DEAD.

One of the Most Illustrious Officers of the United States Navy.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Rear Admiral Shufeldt died at his residence in this city yesterday. A few winters ago Admiral Shufeldt suffered an attack of pneumonia, from which he never fully recovered. Recently his health has rapidly failed. To the last his mind was unimpaired, and he has been busy with his memoirs. He leaves an adopted daughter and two sons—George, for the past fifteen years United States marshal at Shanghai, and Robert, the ornithologist of the Smithsonian institution. His younger brother established the great alcoholic distilleries of Illinois, and another is a clergyman near Chicago.

Robert W. Shufeldt, one of the most illustrious officers of the United States navy, was born in Dutchess county, N. Y., in February, 1822, and was appointed midshipman in the navy on May 11, 1839. In 1853 he received his commission as lieutenant, but resigned from the navy in the following year and accepted the place of chief officer in the Collins line of Liverpool steamers, in which he sailed for two years.

When the civil war began he was in command of the steamer Quaker City, of the New York and Havana line of steamers, and was appointed United States consul general to Cuba by President Lincoln, which he resigned to accept a commission in the navy as commander, where he served with distinction throughout the war.

In 1869 he received his commission as captain, and became commander in 1876, and in 1878, having the Ticonderoga for his flagship, began a commercial and diplomatic cruise around the world under the direction of the state department. On this trip he made a treaty with Korea. He was made rear admiral in 1883, and in 1884 was placed on the retired list.

Provide for Emergencies.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—In view of the president's decision that under existing treaties naval vessels cannot be built on the great lakes, the navy department will now press upon congress the importance of allowing its estimate of $500,000 for the accumulation of a supply of rapid fire rifles for the auxiliary navy. One of the most forcible arguments that will be presented is the fact that Great Britain already has a number of small war vessels which can be quickly taken into the great lakes through the Canadian canals, and in time of war ravage our great lake cities which are now defenseless. With a proper supply of guns on hand, however, it is argued that a large number of American lake steamers could be rapidly armed in emergency, and could easily overpower the British gunboats.

Two Brothers Assassinated.

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 8.—Near Roxanna, Lee county, J. H. Hayes, one of the most prominent farmers in the state, shot and killed Michael and Henry Harper, brothers, and tenants on his plantation. Hayes and the Harpers had quarreled about the payment of the rent, which fell due a month ago, and he ordered it paid. Twice before when Hayes attempted to collect the rent he was driven from his field by the Harpers with shotguns, they claiming that he had not lived up to his contract. Yesterday he visited them a third time and demanded the rent or part, and when they attempted to again drive him off he pulled his pistol and shot them through the head and Michael in the breast. Hayes claims self defense.

British Troops for Ashanti.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The Chronicle officially informed that the steps which are arranged for an expedition to Ashanti. This leaves only a handful of troops in any of the possessions on the west coast of Africa, that the King of Ashanti had declined the demands made upon him by Great Britain to the effect that he should have a British commissioner in his country, and that he should place Ashanti under British protection. The dispatch of the expedition indicates that Great Britain is determined to enforce the king of Ashanti to comply with these demands.

Barnes Pleads Not Guilty.

TRENTON, Nov. 8.—Albert Barnes, formerly superintendent of ex-Mayor Frank A. Magowan's East-on Rubber company, appeared in the Mercer court and pleaded not guilty to the charge of the larceny of $7,000 worth of the stock of the company from Magowan. The charge was made at the time of the exposure of the Magowan-Barnes scandal. The trial was set down for Nov. 18. The defense is that the stock belonged to Barnes through a contract made between himself and Magowan.

Discussing the Dispensary Law.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 8.—The dispensary law for the first time was made an issue in the state in the constitutional convention yesterday on the proposition to give local option the right to change the terms as second defendant. This was introduced solely to secure dispensary conviction when it was found impossible to do so in cities like Charleston and Columbia. The convention, by a vote of 71 to 57, refused to adopt that provision, but by a vote of 72 to 59 it gave the legislature permission to allow the state to ask a change in cases to be prescribed by it, which means that it will prevail in dispensary cases.

Charged with Killing His Parents.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8.—The police announce that they have discovered most damaging and convincing evidence against Jerome Conceil, the 15-year-old boy who is under arrest charged with the murder of his adopted parents, Captain Frederick Lang and his aged wife. The victims lived in the suburbs of the city, and Captain Lang is supposed to have been worth $100,000. The house was entered on the night of Nov. 1, the two old people were literally pounded to death with a hammer, and the house rifled. Young Conceil, and his brother were arrested on election night. His brother will be released, but the police claim that they have convicting evidence against Jerome. The boy maintains a stolid demeanor, and does not seem to realize the enormity of the charge against him.

BRADLEY'S BIG BOOM.

The Kentucky Republican a Strong Vice Presidential Candidate.

HIS CLAIMS STRONGLY PRESENTED

McKinley and Bradley or Harrison and Bradley, It Is Urged, Are the Natural Leaders of the Republican Party North and South.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 8.—The Leader, the leading Republican newspaper in Kentucky, always a stanch supporter of Governor McKinley for the presidency, declares for McKinley for president and Governor-elect Bradley for vice president. The Leader says:

"The overwhelming victory in Ohio, under the brilliant leadership of McKinley, Foraker and Bushnell, gives a new impetus to the presidential candidacy of William McKinley, and the election of William O. Bradley as the first Republican governor Kentucky has ever had."

WILLIAM O. BRADLEY.
(Kentucky's First Republican Governor.)

"makes him a very strong presidential star. McKinley is the embodiment of the protective principle, and Bradley's election is a triumph for sound money. In Ohio both parties were in substantial agreement on finances, and outside of the local questions the Wilson-Brice tariff bill was the chief issue of the campaign.

"In Kentucky both parties in convention endorsed sound money. On the stump Bradley was even more outspoken for a gold standard than his party platform, while Hardin openly repudiated the utterances of his party and proclaimed the gospel of free and unlimited coinage of silver in every speech. McKinley and Bradley stand for protection and honest money, the issue upon which next year's national campaign must be won. McKinley and Bradley as candidates for president and vice president would obliterate Mason and Dixon's line from the political map and make the complete reconciliation of the north and south, and thus nationalize our politics."

HARRISON AND BRADLEY.

Ex-Consul General New's Suggestion for a National Republican Ticket.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 8.—The success of Bradley in Kentucky has led John C. New, ex-consul general to London, to remark that he was now an available candidate for the vice presidency, and in explaining his position he says: "The election of Colonel Bradley as governor of Kentucky—the first practical break of the solid south—argues the fact that sectional lines no longer, as between north and south, divide the people upon issues that are of national importance.

"It would be an exceedingly fitting time for the next Republican convention to nominate for vice president the first man who has succeeded in successfully contesting a race in a southern state for Republican principles. He made his canvas on national views of the tariff and of a sound money system acceptable to the whole country. It is also exceedingly fitting, therefore, that the Republican party, in its next campaign, should take up such a man as W. O. Bradley, who has the confidence of his people, for vice president.

"The center of population in the United States is within a few miles of Indianapolis, looking over towards the Kentucky border. The logic of geography as well as of recent events points to the election of Harrison as president and Bradley as vice president."

Alleged Hotel Thief Held.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Hawley, the alleged hotel thief, who was arrested on Wednesday, said to be wanted in New York, Cleveland, Omaha and other places, was yesterday held in $5,000 bonds for a ten days' continuance. The police here say that he has stolen several thousand dollars' worth of jewelry and other valuables from guests of the various hotels in which he has been employed. The New York authorities telegraphed that they had sent a man to take Hawley back to that city.

Wurster's Election Conceded.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 8.—The regular Democratic organization of Brooklyn practically admits the election of Wurster, Republican, as mayor. Mr. Charles O'C. Hennessey, the secretary of the citizens' committee of one hundred appointed to recount the vote in Mr. Grout's interest, said: "Mr. Wurster is elected. There is no doubt about it. The returns we have gone over show that there were errors, but not enough to change the result as given out."

No Polygamy in Canada.

OTTAWA, Nov. 8.—A dispatch was recently sent out from Utah to the effect that a crowd of Mormons had left for Alberta, in the northwest of Canada, where, under the terms of a contract with the Dominion government, they could practice polygamy. This is absolutely false. The Mormon leaders were warned that polygamy was illegal, and reports from the northwest indicate that neither in letter or spirit are the laws being violated.

ABOUT ELEPHANTS.

RELIEF THAT THEY ARE ENDOWED WITH SUPERIOR INTELLIGENCE.

They Have Mental Qualities Not Possessed by Other Animals—Interesting Stories About Them—The First One Brought to This Country.

Elephants never go to sleep without leaving one of the herd awake to keep watch and give warning in case of intrusion. Go into the big menagerie tent of the show any night after the elephants have gone to sleep, or go into one of the elephant cars on a night run, and you will find that, no matter how quietly and stealthily you have entered, the eye of one member of the herd is upon you.

Conklin believes, as do most all elephant keepers, that the animal can understand what is said to it Indeed, trainers assert that it has more intelligence than any other animal, and that it is the only one that can be taught to mind by word of mouth, without other cues That it is endowed to a limited extent with reasoning powers is certain. One German philosopher thinks he has discovered that this mental development is due to the fact that in the trunk the elephant possesses a prehensile organ similar to the hand of man. The hand, he asserts, has played a more important part in the development of the human intellect than any other agency, since it brings its possessor into more intimate relations with the external world than any other organ Some menagerie men, with more practical observation than the German professor and a smaller bump of theorizing, has pointed out that the only flaw in this reasoning is that if it is correct the gorillas and chimpanzees ought to have a higher mental development than man, because they have four good hands instead of two, and any one of the four is stronger than the eight hands of four men

Well authenticated stories of the sagacity of elephants are so numerous that it is never necessary to resort to exaggeration to say something interesting about them In their wild state the leader of a herd has been seen when approaching swampy ground to extend one foot to try its solidity before trusting his weight to it When satisfied of its firmness, he would go confidently on, and the whole herd would follow in single file, cautiously stepping in the footprints of the leader, so that when the entire herd had thus passed the ground would look as if a single animal had gone that way. The same trait of caution is preserved in the domesticated animal. The action is not the result of training, but a bare instinct always displayed and bearing a striking resemblance to reason.

When Jumbo tried to butt a fast freight off from the Grand Trunk tracks in an effort to save the baby of the Barnum herd. Tom Thumb, and lost his life in the attempt, it was said that his action gave unmistakable evidence of reason, though it was poor testimony to his judgment that he so greatly underestimated the force of the locomotive.

In the matter of the food value of different materials the reasoning power of the elephant is very faulty, however He will eat almost anything that comes his way. If a canvasman leaves a coat or vest hanging on a quarter pole within reach of an elephant, the big brute will edge over toward it and watch an opportunity when unobserved to reach it with his trunk Then he will begin to haul it to and him putting in rolls of hay and chewing them between times. As soon as the garment is at his feet the elephant will put one of his ponderous five hoofed pedals on it and begin to tear it up, rolling the pieces in his trunk and stuffing them into his mouth The sole of a shoe is just as good for him to chew on as a wisp of hay, and his natural instinct of mischief inclines him to prefer that which he knows is forbidden him

The first elephant brought to America for exhibition purposes was Old Bet, and it has often been remarked that the American circus was built on her shoulders Different accounts fail to agree in regard to the date of her importation, which is placed all the way from 1776 to 1813 by different writers of old time reminiscences Old Bet was brought over in the ship Union of which Captain Crowningshield was master and she landed, according to the Salem records, in Philadelphia in April, 1798 She was but 5 feet high, and the sum of $10,000 was paid for her, the largest price that had been paid up to that time for any animal, either here or in Europe She was first exhibited in Philadelphia and astonished the public daily by drawing the corks from 30 bottles of beer and drinking the contents On the 26th of June, 1799, she passed through New York on the way to Boston

Old Bet had been bought on the community plan by a number of farmers of Putnam county, N Y, at the instance of one Ludwig Bistadler, each mortgaging his farm and putting $500 into the venture. They distributed her under wagon sheds at hotels by putting a piece of side canvas up in front of the shed. The admission was 25 cents for adults and 12½ cents, or a York shilling, for children. This gigantic zoological institute, as the caravan was called, traveled east as far as Pawtucket, R I, where the elephant, in spite of its docile disposition, was shot and killed As the "institute" contained no other attractions the show closed The same proprietors then imported a second elephant, which they also called Old Bet, and they enlarged their exhibition by adding to the collection a lion and a two horse cage and one monkey in a box strapped on to the hind end of the lion's cage The second Old Bet landed in 1833 Following her to these shores the next pachyderm to arrive seems to have been Mogul, a very big fellow with long tusks, who was burned on the steamer Royal Tar between St John's and Portland, Me.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

ABOUT SLEEPLESSNESS.

WHAT IT IS A SIGN OF

One of the Most Common Symptoms of Kidney Disease, Sometimes of Brain Trouble.

How It Can Be Cured Without Dangerous Drugs and Opiates.

Sleeplessness is more common than it should be.

It is a sign of dangerous sickness, which may turn out badly.

Sleeplessness means either one or both of two things. First, kidney trouble; second, brain trouble.

But if there is brain trouble, it is probably a complication of the kidney trouble.

Bright's disease, the most dangerous kidney trouble there is, is generally accompanied by sleeplessness.

Nine times out of ten the sufferer from Bright's disease doesn't find out that he has it until it is almost too late to be cured.

The symptoms are so like unimportant sicknesses that you don't think you need a doctor, and so things go on until the doctor can't help you.

Even then Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills would probably be able to cure you.

But that is another matter.

To return to sleeplessness.

No one can do without sleep for more than a few days.

Sleeplessness is a drain on your brain and your vitality. It must be stopped or something will give way.

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills will cure sleeplessness.

They do it by curing the kidneys, by taking away the cause of the whole trouble, by purifying the blood.

Asparagus has a special effect on the kidneys, as every one who has eaten it knows.

This effect is strengthened and made more powerful in Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

If it is your kidneys which cause your sleeplessness, Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills will cure it by toning them up and giving them fresh life and strength.

If it it is your brain, by cleansing and renewing the blood, through the improved action of the kidneys, Dr Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills will cure the brain by giving it fresh nourishment and new life.

To be healthy and to do your best work you must have enough sleep.

When you are losing it, a few doses of Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills will cure you and bring rest to your tired body and mind.

Besides sleeplessness, the symptoms of kidney trouble are headache, nervousness, shortness of breath, evil forebodings, loss of flesh, swelling of the feet and ankles, pain in the back.

All these symptoms are caused by sick kidneys. All of them can be cured by Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

When no other drugs or medicine will give you relief Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills will.. The preparation of asparagus from which they are made (and which is made by a special process for these pills) has never been known to fail.

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills are for sale at all druggists for 50 cents a box, or will be sent postpaid to any address on receipt of price.

A few doses will relieve. A few boxes will cure.

Please write for free pamphlet containing full particulars about the kidneys. Hobb's Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco.

UNITARIAN HISTORY.

HOW THE CHURCH WAS FIRST ORGANIZED 150 YEARS AGO.

Had Its Birth In the "Great Awakening" Revival Conducted by Jonathan Edwards—Preparations For the Sixteenth Biennial Conference at Washington.

Metzerott hall, Washington, will be the place of holding the sixteenth biennial conference of Unitarian and other churches, which begins Monday evening, Oct. 21. United States Senator George Frisbie Hoar of Massachusetts, who is president of the conference, will occupy the chair, and the attendance will include many of the best known persons in the United States, among them being Senator Justin S. Morrill, senior vice president of the conference; the Rev. Minot T. Savage of Boston, who will preach the opening sermon; the Revs. E. E. Hale, D. D., George Bachelor, John Cuckson, Edward A. Horton, SENATOR GEORGE F. HOAR.

Thomas R. Slicer, Howard N. Hosmer, Robert Collyer, D. D., Mary A. Safford, Ida C. Hultin and Anna Garlin Spencer, all of whom will take part in the exercises.

The Rev. Brooke Herford, D. D., of London, will also be present and take part as the representative of the British and Foreign Unitarian association, and among those not belonging to the ministry Professor John Fiske, Dr. C. C. Everett, Professor F. G. Peabody and President G. Stanley Hall will take part.

The foundation principles upon which Unitarianism now stands are well set out in the following declaration from the new preamble to the constitution adopted at the last national conference, held at Saratoga: "The national conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches accepts the religion of Jesus, holding, in accordance with his teachings, that practical religion is summed up in love to God and love to man."

This declaration is believed by Unitarians to be one which would have secured the approval of the lamented Lincoln, since he said, as quoted by F. B. Carpenter in his "Six Months In the White House," "When any church will inscribe over its altar as its sole qualification for membership the Saviour's condensed statement of both law and gospel, 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and thy neighbor as thyself,' that church will I join with all my heart and soul."

Four presidents of the United States have been members of the Unitarian church,—both the Adamses, Thomas Jefferson and Millard Fillmore. Many United States senators, judges and literary men have also been of its membership. Holmes, Lowell, Bryant and Curtis were shining Unitarians.

It was 150 years ago that Unitarianism began in New England, during the revival conducted by Jonathan Edwards and George Whitefield and known as the "great awakening." Those who did not agree with the doctrines and methods of these preachers drew away from the Congregational church, and 75 years later finally separated themselves from the orthodox Congregationalists and openly avowed themselves Unitarian Congregationalists. During the three-quarters of a century that had been leading up to this step the liberals in each parish had failed to join the churches, and in some cases formed a majority of the whole, the orthodox being church members of course. The question of the ownership of the church property then got into the courts, and it was finally decided by the supreme court of Massachusetts that the property belonged to the parish. In each case where a division was made the property went with the church when the church was in the majority and went with the parish without the church when the church was in the minority.

Surviving from the time when orthodox and Unitarian Congregationalists belonged to the same body, there is still in Massachusetts the Congregational convention, which holds and administers funds impartially for the benefit of both orthodox and Unitarian Congregationalist ministers. At the present time the two parties are so near in agreement that it would be impossible to create a division upon the old issues. What is called liberal orthodoxy is almost the same as the Unitarianism of Boston in 1825. In other words, "new orthodoxy" is "old Unitarianism."

In many cases the original first Congregational churches of New England are now Unitarian. This is true of the first parish of Plymouth, Mass., founded at Scrooby, England, 1606; the first church of Salem, Mass., founded ten years later; the first church of Boston, founded 1630; first religious society of Roxbury, Mass., founded in 1631, and a dozen others.

Since the days of Theodore Parker the number of Unitarian churches has doubled. But Unitarians do not consider numbers the sole proof of success. They feel gratified by the fact that from John Adams to Senator Hoar they have included in their membership a line of distinguished statesmen at Washington.

MIMICRY AND REASON.

Indication That This Monkey Is Endowed With a Share of Each.

"That the monkey possesses intelligence to a considerable degree is probably true," said a hotel proprietor who has a small menagerie on his premises. "I believe, however, much of the intelligence with which that animal is credited is due to his love of mimicry.

"The other day two young men with two girls were at the monkey's cage feeding him peanuts. One of the girls was chewing gum, and one of the men suggested that she give the monkey some, expecting that if he took it in his mouth it would stick to his teeth, and he would make sorry work of trying to chew it. The girl at once parted with the sweet morsel she was so industriously chewing, extending it toward the cage. The monkey grabbed it instantly and put it into his mouth, but instead of chewing it, or attempting to, began pulling it out in small ribbons, as children are frequently seen to do. When he had it all out of his mouth, he rolled it into a compact ball between his hands, threw it into his mouth and began the operation again. He appeared to enjoy the performance as much as his visitors. That was imitation."

"That's all right," rejoined another, "but I had an experience with that same monkey wherein he displayed intelligence. I was by the cage smoking one day, and I thought to annoy him by blowing smoke in his face. I was much surprised to find that, instead of being annoyed, he enjoyed it, as was evidenced by his edging up as near me as possible to receive the smoke in larger volumes. Soon he began scratching himself at the point where most of the smoke came against him. When I had smoked one side for a few minutes, he would turn squarely round to have the other side treated in the same way. Then he sat up directly in front of me and received the smoke squarely in the face and neck. I don't know whether he held his breath, but he did not cough, sneeze or wince a particle. To complete the job he then sat with his back toward me, and it would have done you good to have seen him throw his hind feet over his back and scratch. It made me think of the kickers of a hay tedder in motion. Now that monkey knew, through some sort of intelligence, that nothing will send fleas and other insects to the surface or stupefy them as effectively as tobacco smoke."—Utica Observer.

COLLEGE GIRLS AND MARRIAGE.

Bits of Confession That Throw a Light on the Question.

I have no doubt that the remaining cause of the low marriage rate is that many men dislike intellectual women—whether because such women are really disagreeable or because men's taste is at fault I shall not try to determine. And even among those who like them as friends many feel as the young man did who made this confession:

"I never expected to marry the sort of girl I did. You know I always believed in intellectual equality and all that and had good friendships with the college girls. But, you see, you girls hadn't any illusions about us. After you had seen us hanging at the board on problems you could work and had taken the same degrees yourselves, you couldn't imagine us wonders just because we had gone through college, and when I met a dear little girl that thought I knew everything—why, it just keeled me right over. It was a feeling I had no idea of."

And the college woman answered:

"I will betray something to you. Lots of us are just as unreformed as you. We want just as much to look up to our husbands as you want to be looked up to. Only of course the more we know the harder it is to find somebody to meet the want. Probably the equal marriage is really the ideal one, and everybody will come to prefer it some day. But personally I like men to be superior to me. Only I'll tell you what I don't like in them—the wish to keep ahead of us by offering us facts, like spoiled children that want to be given the game and then admired for their skill. If men would encourage us to do our very best, and then do still better themselves, it ought to be good for civilization."—"The Marriage Rate of College Women," by Millicent W. Shinn, in Century.

No Precedent.

During a session of the territorial legislature of Montana, held more than 30 years ago, a measure was introduced which appeared to some people to involve serious constitutional questions. One man, who was supposed to possess great oratorical powers, declaimed fiercely against the measure, claiming that it was "clearly in opposition to the great principles of Magna Charta, which the brave barons in days of old had wrested from King John, a blessed result of a bloody conflict."

A lawyer, more famed for his sturdy common sense than for erudition, rose immediately to reply to this burst of fiery eloquence, evidently bent on making it clear that he for one was not to be overcome by high sounding words or obscure allusions.

"It's of mighty little importance what the opinions of King John and his man McCarthy were," he announced firmly, adding that it was high time for legislative bodies of Montana to think and act for themselves without any reference to the principles which governed the remote authorities quoted by his colleague.

The first orator's speech had made some impression, but the retort was received with the enthusiasm which it deserved, and it was owing to his influence rather than that of his more brilliant predecessor that the measure was defeated.—Youth's Companion.

THE WOMAN SUFFRAGE VOTE.

Both Friends and Opponents of the Measure Satisfied with Massachusetts' Vote.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—The majority given on Tuesday against municipal suffrage for women in Massachusetts was 77,079. The suffragists, represented by Dr. Henry B. Blackwell, say that they are much encouraged by this result, considering the small amount of money which they could use and the short time for work. The "yes" vote (107,776) reveals to them thousands of new friends, they say, and they will begin at once the organization of new clubs to carry on the agitation and to secure municipal suffrage from the legislature.

On the other hand, the managers of the Men Suffrage association are particularly pleased with the majority of 77,000. They estimate that at least 15,000 votes were cast by women for the suffrage. This would leave an adverse masculine majority of over 90,000, besides the demonstration that about 30 per cent. of the women, taking the state through, do not care for the vote at all.

It is recalled that the prohibitory constitutional amendment was defeated in 1895 at a special election by about 40,000, and the effect has been to prevent any further agitation on that line.

Johnson's Wonderful Cycling.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 8.—It was the verdict of the spectators present and L. A. W. officials in charge yesterday that "Johnnie" Johnson, at work at Fountain Ferry stamps him as a marvel among bicycle riders. He made a trial against the standing start, paced, one mile world's record, held by Otto Zeis, and though he rode over one-third of a mile unpaced, he tied the record of 1.56 2-5. He tried it again within twenty minutes, and, notwithstanding a most miserable pickup by the second quad, which carried him outside to the top of the grade, he lowered the record to 1.59 1-5.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 8.—William Earl Antrim, aged 26, an apprentice in the plumbing establishment of Tebeau & Quinn, in this city, is said to be heir to the title and fortune of the Irish Antrims. It is claimed for him by those who have ample proof that his grandfather was Earl Antrim, who died recently, leaving an estate worth $50,000,000.

Patchen Defeats Gentry.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 8.—John R. Gentry was handily beaten by Joe Patchen here yesterday. Patchen won the first two heats easily in 2.15¼ and 2.15. Gentry was distanced in the second heat and withdrawn. Patchen paced the third heat against a running mate in 2.11. The track was slow.

Held for Killing His Daughter's Betrayer.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8.—John H. Messner, of Middle Run, a suburb of Baltimore, was arrested last evening, charged with the murder of Ezekiel Jolly, who, it is said, is the father of the illegitimate child of Messner's 15-year-old daughter. Jolly's body was found on the tracks of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore railway, on Wednesday morning, horribly mangled, and it was thought to have been a case of accidental death until the inquest was held yesterday, when facts were brought out which led to Messner's arrest.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The postoffice department has been informed of the arrest of C. L. Householder, a letter carrier of Harrisburg, Pa., for stealing a registered letter.

New Jersey's Population.

TRENTON, Nov. 8.—The compiling of the state census taken last May has been completed by the secretary of the state, and shows a total population of 1,672,012, an increase over the federal census of 1890 of 228,009. Every county in the state, except Hunterdon, shows an increase, and this county shows a decrease of 121. The cities showing a decrease are: Gloucester 330; Woodbury, 58; Red Bank, 57, and Bordentown 47. The population of Newark is 215,879.

A Robber Fatally Shot.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 8.—A man giving his name as Charles Graves, and claiming Evansville as his home, attempted to murder and rob Station Agent Jones, of the Clover Leaf railroad, at Linden, Ind., and in the fight was shot through the body by Jones. After being shot he escaped, but was treed by bloodhounds. He will probably die.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The Excise Board of New York city has under advisement a plan to reduce the number of saloons in the city from 7 300 to about one-half that number. That there are too many saloons is proven, the Commissioners say, by the fact that so many of them are in financial straits.

Secretary of State Kelsey has just finished compiling the census of New Jersey, taken last July. The figures show that the population of the State is 1,672,942, an increase of 228,000 since 1890. There are 2,828 more females than males. The foreign population is 357,172, of whom 90,433 are Irish, 118,823 Germans and 144,916 of other nations.

War has already been declared between the Brookfield and Lauterbach factions of the Republican party in New York city, and every Republican who is not for Brookfield is to be dismissed from the city service. Several Lauterbach men were "fired out," yesterday. Mr. Lauterbach says that he and his friends will ask for nothing from the Strong administration, and are stronger without patronage than their enemies, who do not know how to use the places in their gift.

Warner Miller rightly regards the result of the election in this State as an emphatic endorsement of his Sunday observance plank. The increased majorities in the rural counties seem to show that the Republicans gained more votes among the God fearing countrymen than they lost from the Sunday beer-drinkers in the cities. Mr. Miller is a very likely candidate for the United States Senate and the Platt machine may find it very hard to beat him.

WAWAYANDA.

Injured by Falling from a Scaffold—Election Day and Corn Husking—Re-Revival Meetings—Donation Visit.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—The other day, T. J. Turner, while assisting in removing a scaffold pole at the new milk bottling factory in Slate Hill, accidentally stumbled and fell, and striking his breast on a corner of a railroad tie, was so severely injured that he has been unable to do any labor since the mishap, and complains of much internal distress.

—I presume to state that the two largest fields of unhusked corn in this town on election day were near Springside. The old saying was that a farmer is not entitled to vote who had not finished husking out his corn previous to election day.

—Religious meetings are continued nightly at Clark's Hall, in Slate Hill. May the good work go on.

—With the low prices paid for farm products in the markets, farmers carry deep wrinkles of care on their faces and are obliged to wear threadbare or patched clothes this year. However, the toiling farmer, even if he is struggling against a big mortgage on his farm, is not a whit released in paying a big tax on his premises with a discouraging prospect of an increase.

—Wm. H. Wood, who always favors public improvements, has generously assisted the milk bottling association of Slate Hill, with the privilege of using the water from his flowing spring, a half-mile distant, which is conveyed in a galvanized iron pipe, three feet underground. A clear stream of pure water is now continuously running through an inch pipe to the bottling works.

—Several of the citizens of Slate Hill, last week, were treated to generous slices of venison, gifts from our well known physician, Dr. F. D. Myers, as the result of his successful deer hunting expedition, in Maine.

—Fresh pork, by the carcass, sells for seven cents a pound; eggs sell for twenty-five cents a dozen; winter apples sell for a dollar a barrel; cider apples sell for from eight to ten cents per bushel; old bologna cattle on foot sell for from $3 to $10 apiece.

—At the donation visit held at the residence of Rev. Theron Brittain, Wednesday evening last, there was a large turnout. All, seemingly, had an enjoyable time. Proceeds were nearly $60.

Reserve In Death Notices.

One notices more and more with every year how the age is oftener and oftener dropped from death announcements. This is in strict accordance with the growing reserve of the individual who keeps his private affairs to himself more closely, even in matters of no direct importance. It is odd that such a private feeling should wax stronger side by side with the greater publicity of one's affairs through the wider notice taken of them in the press generally with society and other mention once undreamed of.—Philadelphia Press.

Death of Mrs. Coursen—No Services Sunday—Death of Sidney B. Bevans—Going to New York.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—Maggie, wife of Raymond Coursen, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hoffman, died at her father's home, near Mt. Salem, Monday morning last, after a long and lingering illness, from consumption. She was a patient sufferer, and it has seemed for the past six months that death would be a relief to her weak and emaciated body, yet life was sweet to one so young, she being only twenty-two years old. The funeral was held at the house, Thursday, at 10 o'clock, and the seating capacity was not great enough to accommodate the large assembly who met to pay the last tribute of respect. The service was preached by the Rev. Mr. Writer, former pastor of the Coleville M. E. Church, and the interment was in the Mt. Salem Cemetery.

—Quite a large congregation assembled at the church, last Sunday morning, but were disappointed, for no minister came as expected. It is hoped to have one next Sunday morning and evening, as usual.

—The Rev. Mr. Gilmore, with his family, left this place, last Friday. Their goods are all packed and ready for shipment as soon as orders are received.

—Mr. Gilmore's donation was well attended, but the gifts were not quite as liberal as they would have been has he been going to stay with us.

—Word was received, last week, by friends here, of the death of Hon. Sidney B. Bevans, of Oklahoma. He died of pneumonia, two weeks ago, aged sixty-five years. Mr. Bevans was well known here and in Port Jervis, where he once owned a home and spent his summers, doing business in the city. He, with his family, moved to Oklahoma about two years ago. He had many relatives in Port Jervis.

—It is very seriously whispered about that John Ferguson and his family are going to leave the farm and move to New York city this fall. They will be sadly missed in this vicinity and they have many friends who will regret them going.

Rheumatism is caused by lactic acid in the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla neutralizes this acid and cures rheumatism.

FELL DOWN THE CELLAR STAIRS

Mr. Hill, of the City Pharmacy, Badly Hurt, Last Night.

About 9 o'clock, last night, Mr. Geo. H. Hill, of the City Pharmacy, North and Cortland streets, started for the cellarway in the rear of the store to attend to the furnace fire for the night. He missed his footing at the head of the cellar stairs and fell to the floor beneath. He was rendered unconscious and his long absence led those with whom he had been in conversation in the front of the store, to go in search of him. He was found lying on the cellar floor with several bad scalp wounds and cuts about the face and hands. Drs. Collin and Lemon attended him and restored him to consciousness, after which he was removed to Thrall Hospital. It is thought that no bones are broken and Mr. Hill will soon be able to be out again.

A SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

H. W. Purdy sues the City in Justice Powelson's Court.

Issue was joined, to-day, in Justice Powelson's court, in an action brought by H. W. Purdy against the city for damages, alleged to have been caused by sewage backing up into the basement of a house owned by him on Academy avenue.

The original claim was for $500, but as Mr. Purdy has commenced suit in justice's court, it was necessary to trim the amount down to $200.

JESSE M. GREGORY'S WIFE MURDER

A Plea of Manslaughter in the Second Degree.

Jesse M. Gregory, formerly of Goshen, was arraigned in the New York General Sessions, yesterday, charged with the murder of his wife, in her apartments on April 6 h last. His counsel said that the District Attorney, after examining the case, had argued that no graver conviction than manslaughter in the second degree could be obtained. He offered such a plea and urged insanity in mitigation of Grego y's crime, citing his mad attempt at self-destruction in support of this theory.

A PET VIVISECTED.

A Little Girl's Kitten Stolen and Used to Entertain and Instruct a Class at the Academy.

Prof. E. P. Haines, of Wallkill Academy, is a believer in vivisection and occasionally cuts up a cat while it is under the influence of chloroform to demonstrate lessons in physiology and anatomy.

Wednesday he announced that if some one would provide the cat he would cut it up in the most approved fashion next morning.

The cat was forthcoming, and was sacrificed in the interest of the rising generation in Middletown. Before the lesson was completed, however, Mrs. Archie Hall called at the school and demanded the cat, but she came too late. She has a little girl whose pet kitten had disappeared, and by diligent inquiry she learned that it had been stolen by a boy and carried to the school. She hurried away, hoping to get there in time to save it, but was compelled to return to her child with the sad tidings that her pet and playfellow was dead. The little girl's grief was pitiable. She cried as though her little heart would break nearly all day, and was finally put to bed actually made sick by her sorrow.

It would be just as well to know where subjects for vivisection come from before sacrificing them. There are plenty of half starved, homeless cats, the killing of which by chloroform would be an act of mercy.

Middletown Banks Not Involved in the W. T. Wallace Failure.

MIDDLETOWN, Nov. 7, 1895

EDITORS ARGUS:—On my return from Pine Bush, to-day, I heard it was rumored on the street that one of our city banks was largely involved in the W. T. Wallace assignment.

I do not know by whom or how the rumor was started, but assert that it is absolutely without foundation. In fact the total indebtedness of Mr. Wallace to any and all of our city banks is less than fifty dollars.

This statement can be verified by an examination of his schedules on file with the County Clerk in Goshen and with W. B. ROYCE, Assignee.

In the party were Misses Edna Beyea, Grace Boyd, Emma Otte, Edna Sayre, Flora Harding and Jennie Mapes and Messrs. Jesse Mapes, Chas. Boyd, Chas. Harding, Wm. Nelson, Bert Sayre and Arthur Barlow. CHURCH LAWMAKERS

GENERAL EPISCOPAL CONVENTION SOON TO MEET AT MINNEAPOLIS.

Owing to the Vast Growth of the Church, the Convention Work Will Be Greater and More Diversified Than Ever Before. Bishop Whipple's Work.

Minneapolis and St. Paul do not always work in harmony, but it is understood that there is perfect co-operation between the two cities in making ready for the entertainment of those who shall attend the next general convention of the Episcopal church, which will begin at Minneapolis on Oct. 1 and continue three weeks.

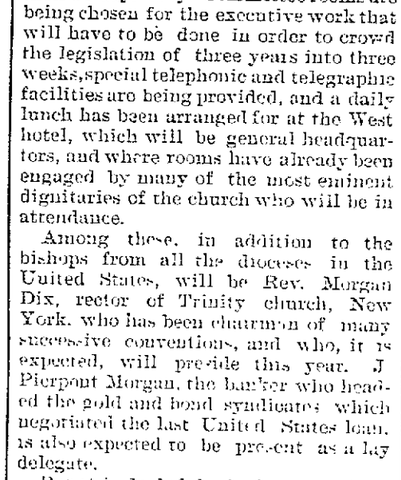
This general convention is the legislative body of the church for the entire country. Its meetings, which are held once in three years, are therefore of the highest importance. During the coming sessions matters having reference to the board of missions, to the various educational institutions of the church and to many other Episcopal organizations and enterprises will be passed upon, and representatives of all these interests will be in attendance. Among those representatives will be the Rev. William Langford, D. D., chief secretary of the board of foreign missions; the Rev. J. Kimber, D. D., assistant secretary; Miss Julia M. Emery, secretary of the women's auxiliary to the board of missions, and many others, who, while not entitled to seats in the convention, will nevertheless have much to do with shaping its work in different directions.

BISHOP WHIPPLE.

The sessions of the convention will be held in Gethsemane church, the oldest Episcopal house of worship in Minneapolis, and the Rev. H. B. Whipple, D. D., bishop of the diocese, will be chief host, of course, his coadjutor, the Right Rev. N. M. Gilbert, D. D., being next on the list in that regard. But as a matter of fact all the Episcopal clergymen and communicants of the Twin Cities will vie with one another in extending the hospitalities, so that those in attendance will doubtless carry away with them the pleasantest remembrances of their 21 days' stay. Committee rooms are being chosen for the executive work that will have to be done in order to crowd the legislation of three years into three weeks, special telephonic and telegraphic facilities are being provided, and a daily lunch has been arranged for at the West hotel, which will be general headquarters, and where rooms have already been engaged by many of the most eminent dignitaries of the church who will be in attendance.

Among these, in addition to the bishops from all the dioceses in the United States, will be Rev. Morgan Dix, rector of Trinity church, New York, who has been chairman of many successive conventions, and who, it is expected, will preside this year. J. Pierpont Morgan, the banker who headed the gold and bond syndicates which negotiated the last United States loan, is also expected to be present as a lay delegate.

But it is doubtful whether any of the visitors will be as interesting a figure as Bishop Whipple himself. This venerable ecclesiastic is known wherever there are Episcopal clergymen of either the American or the English church, and whenever he is spoken of reference is made to his wonderful work as a missionary when a young man. This work was performed among the savage Indians and perhaps hardly less savage whites who peopled Minnesota in its pioneer days, and it is because of its effectiveness that the Episcopal church has a stronger hold upon the Indians of Minnesota than upon those of any other part of the Union. At the celebration of the thirty-fifth anniversary of his consecration as a bishop two of the several Indians who are now Episcopal rectors in Minnesota were present and bore testimony to the bishop's early services. One of these Indians is the Rev. John



REV. MORGAN DIX.

Johnson, whose native name is Enmegahbah. He is a chief of the Chippewa tribe and a type of the red man that is fast passing away. At the celebration mentioned, which took place last year, Enmegahbah told, in a forcible half hour speech, many interesting stories of the trials and even dangers which the bishop was called upon to pass through at the beginning of his work. Bishop Whipple believes that the Indians have generally been misunderstood by the whites.

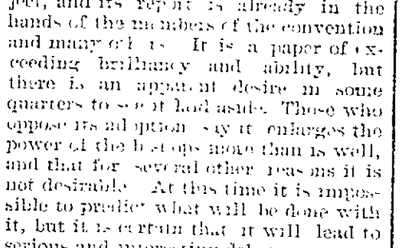
"The Indian," said the bishop in a recent interview, "is the noblest type of the wild man in the world. He recognizes the Great Spirit, believes in a future life, has a passionate love for his children and will meet death for his tribe. In 36 years' experience with Indians I never knew one to tell me a lie, and no Indian ever stole anything from me. The sioux have a bad reputation now, but for 30 years it was their boast that they had never taken the life of a white man. If their former friendship has been changed to enmity, it is our fault."

When Bishop Whipple went to Minnesota, he settled at Faribault, where he still lives. This was in 1859, and there were then 21 parishes with less than 600 communicants in the diocese. During the first three years of his service he traveled 27,000 miles in the discharge of his duties, sleeping in frontier taverns and settlers' huts and preaching in barrooms, cabins and log schoolhouses. When the Indians uprose in 1862 and massacred the whites, the bishop, at imminent danger to himself, visited the scene of carnage and bound up the wounds of the injured. He speaks with pride of the fact that not one Christian Indian joined in the bloody work of that awful year, and adds that it was to the friendly warnings of these Christian Indians that the immunity of many who were spared was due. He says the massacre was the outcome of a long series of neglects and dishonesty, and that he considers many of his dusky friends among the bravest, truest men he ever met. Their favorite names for him are "The Straight Tongue" and the "Father Who Never Lies." While the civil war was in progress, the bishop held services on battlefields and in the camps of General McClellan and General Meade.

At Faribault, which is 60 miles south of St. Paul, Bishop Whipple years ago founded educational institutions which now own much more than $1,000,000 worth of property. They are a theological institute, a school for girls and a military school, and they have made Faribault famous the world over. The bishop is a native of New York, and is now not far from 70 years of age. He is a large man with a clean cut face and commanding appearance. He is a most eloquent speaker, and whenever it is known that he is to deliver an address the people flock to hear him. He has made several visits to England, where he has been the recipient of many honors, and some years ago he was invited to deliver the university sermon at Cambridge, England. This invitation, which was accepted, was perhaps the highest honor ever bestowed upon an American clergyman by the English.

It should be said in memory of some of the noblest workers who ever entered the service of the church that, as far as might be in the extremely difficult circumstances, Bishop Whipple's way had been opened for him prior to his settling in Minnesota. Bishop Kemper was in the field before Bishop Whipple, and so were the Rev. Mr. Gear, who located at Fort Snelling in 1838, the Rev. J. Lloyd Breck, the Rev. Solon W. Manny, who framed the constitution of the diocese, and others.

To return to the convention itself. Owing to the rapid growth of the church much more work will have to be done during this year's session than has been accomplished by any previous convention. Since 1880 the population of the United States has increased about fivefold, but the communicants of the church are now 15 times as numerous as then. Among the most important things to be considered are the requests preferred from the dioceses of California and Minnesota for a division in each case, and while there is little doubt that these requests will be granted, since the demands are almost unanimous, much legislation thereon will be necessary. Another matter to come before the convention, which will undoubtedly excite great interest, is the proposed revision of the constitution and canons of the church. A committee has long been at work upon this subject, and its report is already in the hands of the members of the convention and many of them. It is a paper of exceeding brilliancy and ability, but there is an apparent desire in some quarters to see it laid aside. Those who oppose its adoption say it enlarges the power of the bishops more than is well, and that for several other reasons it is not desirable. At this time it is impossible to predict what will be done with it, but it is certain that it will lead to serious and interesting debate.



ONE OF THE FARIBAULT SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

The general convention of the Episcopal church is always a most impressive body. It is divided into two houses, one of which is composed of the bishops and called the house of bishops and the other of laymen and lesser clergymen, termed the house of delegates. A law to pass must have a majority of both houses, thus ensuring deliberate action and preventing ill advised decisions. The secretary of the house of bishops is the Rev. Dr. Hart and the secretary of the house of deputies is the Rev. Dr. Hutchins. The Episcopal church in America has about 6,000 parishes and missions and a clergy list of 4,369. It is proposed to extend its missionary work in many directions, and three years ago a number of new missionary bishops were appointed. Doubtless their reports on missionary work will be among the most important documents presented during the convention's sessions.

BANKRUPTCY

—of the physical being is the result of drawing incessantly upon the reserve capital of nerve force. The wear, tear and strain of modern life are concentrated upon the nervous system. The young men of our day become sufferers from nervous debility or exhaustion, nervous prostration or weakness. This may be the result of too much mental worry and excitement, or the result of bad practices and excesses, or pernicious habits, contracted in youth, through ignorance. They feel irritable, weak and nervous with such distressing symptoms as backache, dizziness, shooting pains in head or chest, sometimes indigestion. The middle-aged men, as well, suffer from exhaustion, loss of manly power, low spirits, impaired memory, and many derangements of mind and body. The ill-used brain is morbidly wide awake when the overworked business man attempts to find rest in bed.

The physicians and specialists of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute devote their best energies to reclaiming and restoring such unfortunates to health and happiness. A great Doctor Book of 1000 pages, profusely illustrated, treating of these maladies and setting forth a rational means of home-treatment for their cure, is sent on receipt of twenty-one (21) cents for postage and wrapping only.

Blood Poison

THE BANE OF HUMAN LIFE,

Driven Out of the System by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I was a great sufferer from a most persistent blood disease, none of the various medicines I took being of any help whatever. Hoping that change of climate would benefit me, I went to Cuba, to Florida, and then to Saratoga Springs, where I remained some time, drinking the waters, but all was no use. At last, I was advised by several friends to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I began taking it, and very soon favorable results were manifest. Today I consider myself a perfectly healthy man, with a good appetite and not the least trace of my former complaint. To all my friends, and especially young men like myself, I recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla, if in need of a perfectly reliable blood-purifier."—José A. That Philadelphia Investigation.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—State Senator Andrews, chairman of the committee appointed to investigate municipal affairs in Philadelphia, arrived in town yesterday, and will remain until the investigation is at least under way. The senator says there will be no delay this time—no further postponement. "If the lawyers are ready," he says, "the committeemen are, and they are prepared to go on Monday, and sit, if necessary, continuously."

New Foundland Fishermen Starving.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Nov. 8.—Incoming mail steamers bring reports of dire destitution along certain sections of the New Foundland coast, owing to the bad fishery, poor prices for the catch and the retrenchment policy of the government. The reports represent these impoverished people as in desperate circumstances, and it is feared that numbers will starve during the next six months.

Striking Railroaders Enjoined.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 8.—United States District Judge Hanford has issued an order restraining strikers on the Great Northern railroad from interfering with the operation of the road. The injunction was telegraphed to Spokane and given to the deputy United States marshal for service.

Mrs. Eustis' Body Arrives.

Bathing In the Sea.

Those who suffer from irritation of the skin, or skin diseases, should not bathe in the sea, and it is better for them not to have sea air, but to go to some inland holiday resort, and little children especially, when suffering from eczema, should not be allowed sea bathing.

A Gallant Inquiry.

Shakespeare paints so very closely to nature, and with such marking touches, that he gives the very look an actor ought to wear when he is on his scene. —Cumberland.

While in England marriage with a deceased wife's sister is prohibited in Canada it has been made legal with the consent of the queen.

When soda crackers are damp, as though water soaked, the indications are favorable for rain.

British "Red Coats."

We never think of her majesty's soldiery as being attired in other than red coats and brass buttons, but there was a time when the regulation uniform of British soldiers was entirely different from what it is today. In the time of Henry VIII the colors worn by the army were green and white; later on, white, with a red cross on the breast. The first mention of the "red coats," which were so detested by the American patriots of Revolutionary times, is found in a circular letter by Edward, earl of Derby. It bears date of 1547, and is to the effect that "hereafter all foot and light horse soldiers will appear in a red coat made in cassock fashion."—St. Louis Republic.

Words In Use.

An expert in philology has computed that, with 1,500 words, an ordinary man can say everything that is really essential, and of these he commonly uses only 400 or 500, reserving the remainder for extraordinary occasions, when some idea out of his usual line of thinking occurs to him.

The Smaller the Costlier.

Mrs. Hayseed—What is the price of that bonnet over there?

The Milliner—Just $18.

Mrs. Hayseed—What will it be if you cut that ugly piece of ribbon off the side?

The Milliner—Only $30.—Chicago Record.

Bismuth was first separated and distinguished as a metal by Agricola, the famous chemist and scientist, in 1520.

Sarcasm.

"Miss Brown, I am glad to see you think you can lead the style in dress."

"That must be sarcasm, Miss Jones. You have your own ambitions in that direction. What is the trouble?"

"Nothing at all, I'm sure. Of course if you want to wear a bustle there's no law to stop you."

"I'm not wearing a bustle, and it's mean of you to say so."

"Well, here I am sitting right behind you, and you know I'm going to wear the cunningest little russet shoes on commencement day. And yet you've got your skirts so spread over them that nobody can see my feet."

"Oh, I beg your pardon"—rearrangement of skirts—"but don't be afraid your feet won't be seen, dear. They're not invisible."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

THE COMMON COUNCIL.

PROCEEDINGS OF LAST NIGHT'S REGULAR MEETING.

A Sewer Asked for and Another Ordered by the Board of Health—Protection of Fire Alarm and Telephone Wires—Damages Asked for the Backing of Sewage Into a Cellar—An Additional Arc Light for Highland Avenue, but None for Grand Avenue.

A regular meeting of the Common Council was held, last evening. Present, President Dorrance and Aldermen Abrams, Funnell, Hirst, Mance and Reed.

Herbert Geduey, Esq, addressed the Council. He said he had appeared some time ago in behalf of the estate of Emma Bryant in the matter of a sewer assessment on Academy avenue. Nothing had been done in the matter and now that the property is advertised he thought it proper to again bring the matter up. He repeated his former statement that Mrs. Bryant had contributed $125 towards the original sewer besides deeding to the city certain rights of way, and that it was but just that the estate should have credit for the amount paid.

Mr. S. Albert Bull asked for the construction of a sewer on Harrison street, a distance of about 450 feet

Sewer Commissioner Gibbs stated that the Commissioners had examined the premises and the plans and had approved of the plans. Mr. Gibbs also stated that the Board of Health had ordered a sewer on Smith street. He thought it should be built at once and before the paving is laid on Wickham avenue.

Mr. Carson, of Montgomery street, asked that a cross walk be laid on Montgomery street across Prince street. On motion of Mr. Funnell the work was ordered.

Mr. C. B. Wilkes said he found his property, corner of Beattie avenue and Railroad avenue, advertised for an assessment. He explained that the walk was relaid by the city on account of a change of the water course, and one foot of his land had been taken. He thought it an improper charge and asked that the matter be investigated.

NEEDED PRECAUTION AGAINST FIRE

F. T. Smith, Supt. of the Fire Alarm, asked that the Traction Co. be required to put up guard wires wherever the trolley wire crosses other city wires as a precaution against setting fire to buildings into which fire alarm or telephone wires enter. He also asked that the tower on Wallkill avenue be painted.

DAMAGE FROM BACKING UP OF A SEWER.

Mr. Peter Cummings, of the firm of J. & P. Cummings, complained of the Fulton street sewer backing into the cellar of the store, corner of Fulton street and East avenue, during rain storms. He said at times the the water would raise to a man's waist in the cellar and when it ran out would leave a deposit of filth. He presented an itemized bill of damages, but stated that the two most important items,—the loss of his health and the use of the cellar were omitted.

The items in the bill consisted of potatoes, apples, carrots and other vegetables ruined by the filth, a cask of wine and barrels of ale and beer, which were floated about the cellar until emptied, the breaking of beer pipes, etc, amounting in all to $263 - 20.

Mr. Mance moved that the matter be referred to a special committee of three.

The President named as such committee, Messrs. Abrams, Hirst and Mance and suggested that the City Engineer accompany the committee to inspect the premises.

A petition for an arc light at the corner of Lake avenue and West Hanford street, was read and referred to the Lighting Committee.

A petition for a crosswalk on West Main street at Bonnell street, was read.

Mr. Hirst moved that the walk be ordered and explained the necessity for it. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Funnell moved that a crosswalk be laid on Wisner avenue at Cottage street. Carried.

Mr. Reed moved that a sewer basin be ordered at Wisner Place and Fairlawn avenue.

The Clerk stated that the fund is overdrawn.

Mr. Mance wanted the matter to go over to another year. The motion was lost by a vote of five to two.

Action of fire companies at the regular monthly meetings was approved.

NO ARC LIGHT FOR GRAND AVENUE

Mr. Funnell, for the Lighting Committee, reported unfavorably on the request for an arc light on Grand avenue.

Mr. Hirst reported in the matter of a request for an arc light on Highland avenue that if the arc light was moved over from the corner of the street at the Armory and one gas lamp be restored, there would be no need for an additional lamp.

AN ARC LAMP FOR HIGHLAND AVENUE.

Mr. Reed moved that an arc light be placed between Prospect street and the Armory on Highland avenue. Carried.

Mr. Hirst moved that a gas lamp be placed on Foundry street in front of Eagle hose house. Carried.

On motion of Mr. Mance the Superintendent was directed to put the recently opened portion of Linden avenue in a safe condition.

TO INSPECT EXCELSIORS' TRUCK.

Tuesday, at 3:30 p. m., was the time set for an official examination and inspection of Excelsiors' truck.

On motion of Mr. Mance it was ordered that the Traction Co. be required to place guard wires wherever the trolley wire crosses fire alarm wires.

On motion of Mr. Hirst the flagging was ordered relaid in front of the Bennett premises on South street within ten days.

On Mr. Mance's motion the Mayor was authorized to sign a draft payable to Orr Bros. for $2,129 30.

On motion of Mr. Reed needed repairs to the Houston avenue bridge was left in the hands of the Street Committee with power to act.

The map of the proposed sewer ordered by the Board of Health on Smith street was placed on file.

ROCKLAND.

Went Back on His Party—Took It Easy—In New York—Blanket Ballot a Success—Other Notes.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY

—Democrats are at a loss to know why John J Maybee, Roscoe's postmaster, took off his coat and worked all day election day for Messiter and Balantine. Democrats say his name hereafter is "Dennis."

—Rockland's postmaster took things more quietly and sat on the election board.

—M. R. Dodge and wife have returned from New York city.

—Judge Darbee, of Roscoe, accuses the Democrats of selling out to the Republicans on election day.

—Abira Green, the genial proprietor of the Rockland House, with his wife and daughter, Maud, are spending two weeks in the Metropolis.

—The new blanket ballot worked well in our district. Out of the 224 votes cast only one ballot was spoiled. There were 113 straight Republican tickets and forty-two straight Democratic tickets polled.

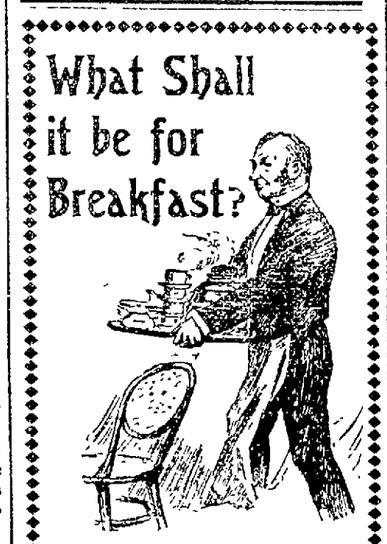
—The people of the Congregational Church will hold a grand concert at their church, Friday night.

—E. B. Palen and wife have returned from a two weeks' visit at Ridgeway, Pa.

—Corn meal is selling at this place for ninety cents per hundred.

—The Beaverkill Telephone Company's line from Roscoe to Low Beach will be ready and in working order in about one week.

—One commendable thing was noticed at the polls, on Tuesday, that not a drunken man was seen. The election was the quietest ever held in town.



Shall it be a pasty oatmeal which will clog the digestive tract, or shall it be a smooth oat food, each kernel standing out by itself, an oatmeal which can be eaten without fear of indigestion or dyspepsia?

If it's to be the latter kind it must be H-O, no other will do.

WURTSBORO.

In Loving Memory of Mary Elizabeth Helm.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

Again are we impressed with the solemn truth that, "As for man his days are as grass; as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth; for the wind passeth over it and it is gone."

The fact of which the stranger may take but a casual notice or consider with the unconsoling thought that such is the destiny of all that breathe, is recorded in the plain statement:

Died at her home in Wurtsboro, N. Y., October, 22, 1895, Mary Elizabeth Rockwell, wife of Jacob Helm.

But in the home where was loved and where her presence composed so large a part, there are aching hearts; there is a vacancy that can never be filled. No sympathizing word, be it ever so sincere, is sufficient to heal those wounded hearts. By all her acquaintances she was highly esteemed and loved. Her loss in the church, Sunday School and choir is and will be keenly felt, so long as any who were in a position to appreciate her deep interest in each shall remain. Upon the death of Mrs. Jacob Stanton, in 1890, she succeeded the deceased to the office of President of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Wurtsboro M. E. Church, which office she held until her death. In this capacity she was a zealous and faithful worker. She will be long remembered by the society on account of the services she rendered and for the cheer she brought to the society by her happy disposition.

In every station in life she was faithful and true.

In her home she was a shining light, a helpful wife and a devoted mother. During her suffering under the wasting hand of disease she bore up with a brave heart.

For a long time she was hopeful of returning health, but when hope at last ceased to beam in her bosom she moved on beneath the deepening shadows:

"Sustained and soothed
By an unfaltering trust, approach her grave,
Like one that wraps the drapery of his couch
About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

THIS IS CARLETON NIGHT.

You can hear him from any seat in the Casino; voice clear as a bell; enunciation as clean-cut as the shadow of an electric light; power of magnetism so great as to hold the whole audience so still that every sound can be caught easily, wherever you may sit. "It was so still I could hear watches ticking all around me," said one lady, after his entertainment. Could anything better describe the effect produced by a speaker upon his audience?

So, if for some inscrutable reason you have not already secured your seat, don't stay away on that account, don't be frightened by the large number of tickets already sold; we will find room for you. Even if you have to sit on the stage you shall have a seat. Three hundred sat on the stage at Tremont Temple, Boston, and he really had his audience all around him.

Go immediately to Dusenberry's and get the best seats there are left. If you haven't time to do that come to the Casino anyway. We will find seats for you.
